PROJECT RESOURCE

Project Genetics is a Certified Global Unified UKG Partner, wholly focused on UKG migrations, implementations, and support augmentation to close the resource gap felt by businesses on a daily basis.

STAFF AUGMENTATION

We are a part of your team

Project Resource can help provide a safe pair of helping hands you can rely upon in your time of need. Our experienced client-side team augmentation resources are always ready to help, always knowledgeable, and always providing a timely result. Our resources help you minimize risk, stay on time throughout your projects, and ensure your solution is optimized.

Receive a tailored approach

No two businesses operate in the same way - we take the time to understand the intricacies of your organization and tailor our approach to meet your unique needs. Whether you require on-site resources, full-time resources or just need a little extra support, our engagements will reflect your organization's values and desired outcomes.

Here for today, ready for tomorrow

Project Resource will be delivered in alignment with the existing HCM strategy articulated by our clients, with the goal of providing a platform upon which our clients can support their operations, grow their organization, and relieve long term value. We'll make sure your solution is set up for today while providing best practices and recommendations to address any anticipated future needs.

WHY PROJECT RESOURCE?

Our UKG certified solution experts give your team the help they need, becoming part of your team for short or long term engagements. The duration and content of your engagements can be tailored by the client, to provide strategy, leadership, implementation, and support for functional or technical projects. We will train your team to build back important skill sets for the future.

WHAT DOES PROJECT RESOURCE INCLUDE?

Our team can be utilized to perform project-related work or used to train your existing and newly hired team members in your environment maximizing productivity and minimizing downtime. Clients can choose to switch from functional assistance to technical assistance within a single engagement.

Having an independent expert as your advocate can greatly help expedite solution identification and problem resolution. This allows our clients to re-engage with the business and start to deliver value faster and more consistently in line with industry best practices. The resulting reenergized teams are better able to support and evolve the solution in the future.
